

Little Hands Signing in the Classroom

Presented by Kathy MacMillan

Studies show that using sign language with hearing children can improve vocabulary, reading comprehension, defuse behavior issues, support a variety of learning styles, and increase overall interest in learning! Learn the fascinating reasons behind this phenomenon as well as strategies for incorporating signs into your curriculum and classroom management. You'll leave with a basic vocabulary of signs and materials to get you started.

This training has been approved by the MD State Department of Education—Office of Child Care for 3 clock hours in the area of Core of Knowledge-Curriculum. MSDE-OCC Trainer # CKI-3284
